

Knighty night in the Botanics

A night in the garden and two nights in one of the world's top rated hotels - that's the offer from The Knight Residence in Edinburgh.

Two nights in one of its luxury self-catering one bedroom apartments in the heart of the capital costs £199 and for a two 2 bedroom apartment just £249 until November 23. Guests will also have the opportunity to take part in the Edinburgh Royal Botanical Garden's a 'Night in the Garden'.

As darkness falls, visitors follow a magical trail of light. Some of the Garden's favourite features, like the Pond and the Victorian Palmhouse, are used as backdrops for extraordinary light effects.

A two bedroom apartment at The Knight Residence sleeps four so accommodation (plus a generous breakfast pack) costs just over £72 per person for two nights. It has been included in global travel agency Expedia's list of the world's top hotels for the past seven years.

Tickets for 'A night in the Garden' cost £12.50 (£14.20 including booking fee) for adults and £6 for children aged 4-15 years (£7 inc. booking fee). There is no charge for children under three or essential carers.
